

Current Account Summary of Changes

We're updating our terms and conditions

Many of the changes are to reflect a change in the law that governs how you can make payments and use your accounts.

As well as the specific changes we explain below, we've made various minor changes (including to the wording within the terms and conditions and to our contact details).

When will the changes take effect?

All other changes to the terms and conditions	13 January 2018

Third party providers

What are we changing?	How are we changing it?	Why are we making the change?
Third party providers (TPPs).	We're adding terms to allow you to use "TPPs". What is a TPP? A TPP is a service provider that is authorised to provide information or payment related services on certain online accounts. If you sign up for a TPP service, you can: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • make payments from your account on the terms of your agreement(s) with us through the TPP or with the TPP acting for you; or • instruct them to provide account information services (for example, to enable you to see your accounts with different providers in one place or provide tools to analyse your transactions and spending patterns). 	To reflect a change in the law.

What are we changing?	How are we changing it?	Why are we making the change?
	We'll treat any instruction from a TPP as if it was made directly by you. You should check from the information it gives you that the TPP you are thinking of using is authorised. You should also note that if the TPP needs your security details to provide these services, it'll be able to see exactly the same information that you can see when you use Online Banking. We may refuse to allow a TPP to access your account where we are concerned about unauthorised or fraudulent access by that TPP. You must always tell us about unauthorised or incorrect payments even where you use a TPP.

Contacting you

What are we changing?	How are we changing it?	Why are we making the change?
We're making clear when we can assume you've received a communication we've sent to you.	We'll assume that you've received any letter we send using your contact details within three Business Days after we've posted or sent it and that you've received any email or text message immediately.	To reflect our operations.
Contacting you in the event of fraud.	We'll be making clear how we'll contact you in the event of suspected or actual fraud or a security incident.	To reflect a change in the law.

Liability for unauthorised payments

What are we changing?	How are we changing it?	Why are we making the change?
Unauthorised payments.	Except in cases of fraud or gross negligence, the maximum amount you could be obliged to pay in the case of an unauthorised payment transaction before you tell us about a possible breach of security will decrease from £50 to £35. Also, unless you've acted fraudulently, you won't be responsible for any unauthorised payment if we don't apply procedures that we're legally required to use to check a payment has been authorised by you. When you tell us about an unauthorised payment, we'll refund the amount of the payment as soon as we reasonably can and, anyway, before the end of the working day after you tell us.	To reflect a change in the law.

Payments

What are we changing?	How are we changing it?	Why are we making the change?
We are updating the information about the time it takes for us to process cheque payments into your account.	We're adding times for cheque clearing that will apply when we can use an image of a cheque for processing instead of the paper cheque. When this happens, the Business Day after you present the cheque, the payment: <ul style="list-style-type: none">• increases the amount in your account for working out interest; and• is included in the funds you can use and cannot be recalled by the paying bank. Once your cheque can be cleared in this way, you'll be able to withdraw your funds more quickly and it will count for interest sooner than it would have done using the paper-based system.	To reflect the introduction of a new image based clearing system for cheques introduced by the Cheque & Credit Clearing Company. We will put notices in our branches and on our website to let you know when this applies.

What are we changing?	How are we changing it?	Why are we making the change?
We're changing the availability of payments in some currencies.	We're making it clear that we don't offer payments in all currencies, and that customers should contact us to clarify which currencies are available.	We've reduced the number of currencies available in order to simplify our services.
We're changing the availability of foreign cheque and currency services that we have previously offered.	Foreign cheque deposits and withdrawals will no longer be allowed on your account from 5 January 2018. You will also no longer be able to ask us to issue travellers cheques or to cash travellers cheques into your account from 5 January 2018. We are also withdrawing our foreign currency services from 5 January 2018.	To simplify our services.
Payments in cash.	We will remove reference to you being able to pay cash in using a deposit machine in one of our branches.	We no longer have cash deposit machines in branches.
Payments in. EEA means all the member states of the European Union and Iceland, Norway, and Liechtenstein.	We will clarify that where you receive a payment into your account in an international currency we accept, you should be able to use the money and it should count for working out interest within two hours provided it's within the EEA and in an EEA currency. If the payment is received after 3:30pm (previously 9pm), or on a non-Business Day, it will count for interest on the next Business Day.	To accurately reflect our process.
Payments into your account by mistake from within the EEA.	If you receive a payment which the payer says was made by mistake but you think that the payment was intended for you, we'll need to share all relevant personal information for the collection of the funds with the paying bank if they ask us so that the payer may contact you directly.	To reflect a change in the law.

What are we changing?	How are we changing it?	Why are we making the change?
What happens if we send a payment late.	If we send a payment but it arrives later than it should have, you can ask us to contact the receiving bank and request them to credit the payment as if it had been made on time.	To reflect a change in the law.
International and foreign currency payments.	The way we treat payments made to or from a bank outside the EEA will change as will payments in non-EEA currencies. The agreement will make clear that, for payments within the EEA, you will no longer be able to pay charges for the person you're making a payment to.	To reflect a change in the law.
The description of SEPA payments.	We're removing reference to SEPA payments being available in currencies other than euro.	To clarify that SEPA payments can only be made in euro.

Transaction information

What are we changing?	How are we changing it?	Why are we making the change?
The way we tell you about transactions on your account.	You can ask us at any time (through our mobile app, Online and Telephone Banking, in branch and at ATMs) for information about payments in and out of your account. In addition, we'll provide a statement for each month that you've made payments out of your account. We won't provide a monthly statement if you ask us not to, but we'll continue to make information available when you ask us.	To reflect a change in the law.

Overdrafts

What are we changing?	How are we changing it?	Why are we making the change?
Our terminology for overdrafts (arranged and unarranged) and the introduction of a monthly cap for overdrafts. Arranged (sometimes called formal) overdraft This is an overdraft we agree in advance. We'll confirm the terms of your overdraft in writing. Unarranged (sometimes called informal) overdraft This is agreed when we make a payment or take an amount out of your account even though you don't have enough money in your account (or under an arranged overdraft) to cover the payment in full. We charge interest and charges on an unarranged overdraft.	Going forward, 'informal' overdrafts will now be called 'unarranged' overdrafts and 'formal' overdrafts will be called 'arranged' overdrafts. We are introducing a monthly maximum charge (MMC) of £60 for unarranged overdrafts and will include a standardised definition for the MMC so that you can compare the level of MMC with that set by other banks. In addition to the MMC, we are introducing a new cap on any type of overdraft charge. This means that even if you only use an arranged overdraft or if you use both an arranged and unarranged overdraft, the maximum you will pay per charging period will still be £60.	To reflect changes in the law. To make it easier for you to calculate the most you will ever be charged for using an overdraft.

What happens when you or we close your account?

What are we changing?	How are we changing it?	Why are we making the change?
If you have a packaged account which you close or convert to another current account.	If you have a packaged account which you close or convert to another current account part way through the month, you'll receive a full refund of that month's fee.	To simplify the process when you close or convert to another current account.

Use of your data

What are we changing?	How are we changing it?	Why are we making the change?
Use of your data.	You will need to explicitly consent to us accessing, processing, and retaining any information you provide to us, for the purposes of providing payment services to you. This does not affect any rights and obligations you or we have under data protection legislation. You may withdraw this consent by closing your account. If you do this, we'll stop using your data for this purpose, but may continue to process your data for other purposes.	To reflect a requirement to be clear about this as a result of a change in the law.

Account Charges Leaflet

Overdrafts

We offer two types of overdraft: arranged (sometimes called formal) overdrafts and unarranged (sometimes called informal) overdrafts. Please note that overdrafts are not available on Linked Savings Accounts.

We may request repayment of part or all of an overdraft at any time and/or reduce any overdraft limit at any time, but we will usually give you advance notice.

Arranged overdraft – This is an overdraft we agree in advance. We'll confirm the terms of your overdraft in writing.

Unarranged overdraft – This is agreed when we make a payment or take an amount out of your account even though you don't have enough money in your account (or under an arranged overdraft) to cover the payment in full. We charge interest and charges on an unarranged overdraft.

You will usually pay debit interest in return for making use of overdraft facilities. You can find the details for your account in the table overleaf.

If you use an unarranged overdraft, it will cost you more than an arranged overdraft agreed in advance, but we will limit our unarranged overdraft charges in three ways:

1. Waiver: helping with infrequent charges

We will not charge you any unarranged overdraft charges for unarranged overdrafts that last six consecutive Business Days or less, provided that you have not requested an unarranged overdraft in the previous 12 months, but you will incur debit interest.

2. Buffer: there is an unarranged overdraft buffer of £20 on your account

Up to this limit, you will not incur unarranged overdraft charges but you will be charged debit interest.

3. Monthly cap on unarranged overdraft charges

The monthly cap on unarranged overdraft charges for your current account is £60. Further details can be found overleaf.

This cap covers all debit interest and overdraft charges. We explain how this works in more detail overleaf (including what we mean by monthly).

Overdraft charges cap

We are committed to charging you fairly for our products and services and helping you to stay in control and manage your money, so in addition to the monthly cap on unarranged overdraft charges, we are introducing a new cap on any type of overdraft charge (including debit interest) in one charging period. We have also set this at £60. This means that even if you only use an arranged overdraft, or if you use both an arranged and unarranged overdraft, the maximum you will pay per charging period will still be £60. We explain more about how this works in the table overleaf.

Financial difficulties

Should you be experiencing financial difficulties and be unable to keep up with bill payments or your income falls, we would recommend that you contact us as early as possible. We will be happy to discuss your needs and to help you understand what options might be available to you. You can get further information by calling 0344 844 8899[†] (Mon - Fri 8am - 8pm, Sat 9am - 5pm) or visit one of our branches for a free financial health check.

Monthly subscription fee for your current account

Monthly cap on unarranged overdraft charges	The monthly cap on unarranged overdraft charges for your current account is £60. <ol style="list-style-type: none"> Each current account will set a monthly maximum charge for: <ol style="list-style-type: none"> going overdrawn when you have not arranged an overdraft; or going over/past your arranged overdraft limit (if you have one). This cap covers any: <ol style="list-style-type: none"> interest and fees for going over/past your arranged overdraft limit; fees for each payment your bank allows despite lack of funds; and fees for each payment your bank refuses due to lack of funds. This is a standard definition to allow you to compare unarranged overdraft charges across different providers but in practice, we don't actually charge fees for refusing payments. The monthly cap refers to the charges applied in a charging period, not a calendar month. We explain what we mean by this below.
Overdraft charges cap	We will not charge you more than £60 for any type of overdraft charge (including debit interest) in one charging period. This means that whatever type of overdraft you use (arranged or unarranged or both), the maximum you will pay per charging period will be £60. If you are using both an arranged and an unarranged overdraft, we will apply unarranged overdraft charges and interest first up to the £60 cap followed by arranged overdraft charges and interest. Once the £60 cap is reached, we will waive any further charges or interest for that charging period.
Charging period	Unless we tell you otherwise on your statement, the charging period used for interest, commission and charges is the fifth day of the first month of the charging period to the fourth day of the next month. Please note, when these dates do not fall on Business Days the charging period will begin or end, as applicable, on the next Business Day. Please check your statements for details of any interest or charges that may be applicable.
