

Remortgaging guide

We're with you every step of the way

The co-operative bank

Here for you for life

With so many different mortgages out there to choose from, deciding which one is best for you can be a bit of a minefield. But with the help of this guide, we aim to answer any questions or queries you may have about remortgaging.

YOUR HOME MAY BE REPOSSESSED IF YOU DO NOT KEEP UP REPAYMENTS ON YOUR MORTGAGE

What is a remortgage?

Remortgaging usually means moving your mortgage from one lender to another.

When should I remortgage?

There are a few good reasons why you might consider remortgaging. It might be that you're coming to the end of your current mortgage deal, or that your deal expired a while ago and you've been paying your lender's standard variable rate (SVR) of interest.

You also might be looking to save on your monthly outgoings by reducing your monthly repayments or looking to reduce the term of your mortgage. You could be considering borrowing additional capital to make a few home improvements.

Whatever your reasons for remortgaging, we've options that may be open to you.

How much could I borrow?

Every lender will have their own criteria, so the percentage of your current home's value you'll be allowed to borrow can differ. But generally, the kind of things your lender will take into account when working out how much you can borrow, includes:

- Your salary and ability to pay.
- Your expenditure.
- If you have any outstanding debts.
- Your overall credit rating.
- If you have ever missed a mortgage payment in the past.
- If you have ever had a County Court Judgement (CCJ) against you.
- If you have ever had any individual voluntary arrangements (IVAs).
- Any other credit defaults.

They will also look at your current loan to value (LTV) ratio. This shows the amount you want to borrow as a percentage of your home's value.

How much could I save?

To see if you will make a saving, and how much that might be, first we recommend doing a little homework. Don't worry, it's nothing too taxing – simply shop around to see what deals are available to you, and then compare the interest rates on the deals you find with the rate you're paying now.

Then, add up all the remortgage fees and charges you'll have to pay and deduct these from the amount you could save. If this still leaves you with a saving, then remortgaging could be the right option for you.

Remortgaging could also allow you to reduce the term of your mortgage. This could mean that you make a saving over the life of the loan by reducing the amount of interest you pay overall.

The Co-operative Bank offers an advised mortgage service to all new customers. Our expert advisers will be able to help you choose the right option for you from our range of Britannia mortgages from The Co-operative Bank.

Different types of mortgages

The Co-operative Bank provides a fully advised mortgage service. Our expert advisers can guide you through the different types of mortgage we offer and help you choose which product best matches your needs from our range of Britannia mortgages from The Co-operative Bank.

You can find out more about our range of mortgages by visiting co-operativebank.co.uk/mortgages

Some of the types of mortgage you can choose from are:

	Fixed Rate Mortgages With a fixed rate mortgage your interest rate stays the same for a fixed deal period, for example, three years. This can make it easier to manage your budget because your monthly payment will stay the same. Once your deal period has ended, many lenders will transfer you to their standard variable rate (SVR). You should check what happens at the end of your fixed rate deal with your mortgage lender.
	Variable Rate Mortgages With a variable rate mortgage, the amount you pay each month may go up and down, depending on the interest rate. There are a wide range of options to choose from, including:
Tracker	A variable rate mortgage where the rate of interest tracks the Bank of England's Base Rate or a rate indicated by your mortgage lender. Once your Tracker rate deal is over, many lenders will transfer you to their standard variable rate (SVR). You should check what happens at the end of your tracker rate deal with your mortgage lender.
Standard Variable Rate (SVR)	This rate is set by the lender and you will often be switched onto an SVR automatically at the end of your current deal if you haven't switched.

Although not available through The Co-operative Bank, other mortgage options include:

Capped	Even though the interest rate is variable, your lender caps the maximum level it could rise to and agrees it won't go above this for the duration of your deal.
Offset	You only pay interest on the difference between the balance of your mortgage and your savings. When 'offsetting' you don't earn interest on your savings, but you will reduce the amount of interest you pay on your mortgage instead. This may be a fixed or variable rate.
Discount	A discounted rate applied by the lender to their SVR for a set period of time. Make a note of your lender's SVR before you take out the mortgage though, as this is what you'll pay once your discount ends.

Repayment types

There are also two options on how you pay back your loan:

	Capital and interest Also known as a Repayment mortgage, this is where the monthly payments you make go towards paying off both the amount you borrowed, as well as the interest on the loan.
	Interest only With this option your monthly payments will be smaller as you're only paying the interest charged on your mortgage. If this is the repayment type you decide to go for, it is important to plan how you will repay the outstanding balance, as it is your responsibility to have enough funds available to pay your mortgage at the end of its term. The Co-operative Bank does not offer interest only mortgages.

What are the costs of remortgaging?

Costs from your existing lender

If you want to leave your current mortgage lender before the end of your existing deal, you may have to pay an early repayment charge and exit fee. This fee varies between lenders, and even mortgage deals, so make sure you find out how much you'll have to pay before you make a decision.

Costs from your new lender

Depending on the type of product you choose you may have to pay an arrangement fee. You may also need to pay for conveyancing and a valuation.

All mortgage applications are subject to an affordability assessment.

There may be a charge by the providers of these services.

How do I apply for a remortgage?

Decision in principle

Your lender might give you a decision in principle. This is your lender saying that based on their initial checks they will lend you the money to remortgage and they give you an indication of the maximum amount they will lend you. Remember though – getting a decision in principle isn't the same as getting a mortgage offer and doesn't guarantee you a mortgage offer.

How long will everything take?

There's no exact answer to this question, as information needs to be shared between many different parties who all have their own processes. But the quicker you return all the information you've been asked to provide, the better.

- If you're employed – your last three months' payslips plus your latest full month's bank statement.
- If you're self employed – your last three years' accounts, your last three years tax assessments forms (SA302) plus your latest full months bank statement.
- Proof of identity such as your passport
- Proof of your address such as a utility bill addressed to you at your current address
- A Direct Debit mandate so they can take repayments from your bank.

What happens next?

Your mortgage offer

When you have agreed with your lender how much you will be able to borrow and they have received and checked all the information you have given them, you will receive your formal mortgage offer.

Insurance

As well as your mortgage and fees, it's a good idea to think about insurance. Some people take mortgage protection insurance to cover their payments in case they have an accident or become seriously ill. You can arrange this with your mortgage lender or independently.

Buildings insurance protects your home against damage and is often a condition of receiving a mortgage offer. You should also consider insuring your possessions by taking contents insurance as well. Many insurers offer deals when you take contents and buildings insurance at the same time.

Glossary

In case you're not sure what some of the words here mean, we've included some simple definitions.

Advance

This is sometimes used as another term for your mortgage loan. It refers to the amount your lender agrees to lend you.

Annual Percentage Rate (APR)

Shows the rate of interest you will pay on your mortgage over a year assuming you keep the mortgage for the whole of its term and that the interest rate doesn't change during this time. APR allows you to compare how much it will cost you to borrow from different mortgage providers.

Arrears

Arrears is a term to describe payments which are late or overdue.

Asking Price

The price that a person selling a property wants to get for its sale. This is negotiable.

Assets

Anything that you own that could be converted into a cash value.

Bank of England

This is the central bank of the UK and is responsible for maintaining a stable economy. As one of their functions, they set the interest base rate.

Base Rate

This is the interest rate set by the Bank of England that lenders use to set their own interest rates.

Broken interest

A charge for the amount of interest owed for the period between the day you complete your mortgage and the day that the first payment is taken. The broken interest will be collected at the same time as your first repayment

Broker

A broker – or mortgage broker – is someone who can offer you advice on taking out a mortgage. Independent mortgage brokers will be able to help you compare products from different lenders to see which is the best deal. You don't have to use a broker, but if you do you should make sure that they are registered.

Buildings Insurance

Insurance that protects you in case your home is damaged through circumstances like fire, flooding, subsidence etc. Many mortgage offers are dependent on you having buildings insurance on property.

Chain

If you're buying a property from someone who is in the process of buying another property from someone else, this is known as being in a chain.

Completion

Your completion date is the final stage of you purchasing your property. On the day you complete your solicitor will pay the balance owed on the property to the seller's solicitor and your new home legally becomes yours. You'll be able to move in from this date.

Contract

A contract is a legally binding, documented agreement between two or more parties.

Conveyancing

Conveyancing is the name of the process involved in transferring the ownership of a property from one person to another. This process is completed by your solicitor or a qualified conveyancer.

Conveyancer

See above.

Council Tax Band

Your council tax band is decided by your local authority and will affect how much your council tax bill is when you live in that property.

Credit Rating

This is an assessment of how much risk you pose to a lender and is used to assess credit and loan applications.

Decision in Principle

This is your lender saying that in principle, based on their initial checks, they will agree to give you a mortgage. This is not the same as receiving a formal mortgage offer.

Deposit

The money you will have to pay up-front towards buying a property. This is normally expressed as a percentage of the total value of the property you're looking to buy.

Early Repayment Charge

A charge by a mortgage lender if all or part of the loan is paid before a date specified in the mortgage. It may be shorter or longer than the deal period.

Equity

The difference between the value of a property and the value of a mortgage.

Exchanging Contracts

The swapping of contracts between the buyer and the seller. From this point the sale is a legally binding contract.

Exit Fees

If you pay off your mortgage early you may be charged an early exit fee by your mortgage lender.

Financial Conduct Authority

Often abbreviated to FCA this is an independent regulatory body for financial services.

Freehold

If your property is freehold it means that you own both the property and the land that it sits on for an unlimited period of time.

Ground-rent

If you own your property on a leasehold basis you will have to pay this fee to the person who holds the freehold on the property. This is normally a yearly payment.

Guarantor

A person who guarantees that you will make the monthly repayments on your mortgage loan and agrees to be liable for the debt if you don't keep up with your monthly repayments.

Inflation

A rise in general price levels.

Insurance

Insurance is a contractual agreement between you and the insurer to pay compensation for a loss caused by a specified event. You will pay a monthly or annual premium for this agreement.

Joint Application

When you and another person apply for a mortgage together and are jointly and individually responsible for making your monthly repayments.

Joint Mortgage

When you and another person buy a property together and are jointly and individually responsible for making your monthly mortgage repayments.

Key Facts Illustration

This shows you the details of a mortgage deal so that you can compare it against other deals.

Leasehold

Means you have a right to occupy the property but rent the land it sits on from the person who owns the freehold.

Lender

The Bank, Building Society or financial services provider that agrees to lend you the money for a mortgage loan.

Loan-to-value

Commonly abbreviated to LTV, this stands for loan to value. LTV shows the ratio of the mortgage amount to the value of the property expressed as a percentage.

Mortgage

A mortgage is a loan to help you buy a property. You'll need to contribute towards the cost with a deposit and will be charged a rate of interest on what you owe. Your home will be at risk if you don't keep up repayments on your mortgage loan.

Mortgage Adviser

A mortgage adviser is someone who's qualified to offer you advice. They'll assess your needs and eligibility before recommending the most suitable product for you. Using a mortgage adviser offers the best protection for you as a customer.

Over Payments

You will be told by your lender the amount you must re-pay on your mortgage loan each month. If you want to pay over this amount or make a lump-sum payment this is known as an over-payment and, depending on your lender and mortgage agreement, you may be charged an early repayment charge for doing this.

Portable/porting

This is a feature of a mortgage deal that means if you move house before your current deal has expired, you can transfer your existing mortgage deal to your new property. Not all mortgages are portable and you should check the terms and conditions of your mortgage if you are interested in porting. Lending criteria applies.

Product Fee

Depending on your lender or deal you may be asked to pay a fee to secure your preferred mortgage product.

Prudential Regulation Authority

Commonly abbreviated to PRA, responsible for the prudential regulation and supervision of banks, building societies, credit unions, insurers and major investment firms.

Purchase Price

This is the amount you buy the property for and it may differ from the amount that the house was originally advertised at.

Repayment Mortgage

Your monthly payment covers the interest payment and an extra amount that goes towards paying off the amount you owe.

Remortgage

When you move your mortgage from one lender to another but you're not moving house.

Repossessed

If you don't keep up with your monthly repayments your lender has a legal right to take possession of your property and sell it to repay the mortgage debt.

Seller

The person selling the property.

Standard Variable Rate

Set by lenders this is a rate which you may move to at the end of a deal period. Not all lenders have an SVR.

Stamp Duty

This is a government tax you have to pay on the purchase of your property. The amount will vary depending on the value of your property and you should check before you buy how much, if any, stamp duty will cost you.

Subject to Contract

If you agree subject to contract you are agreeing that you are going to buy / sell a property but it has not yet become legally binding through the exchange of contracts.

Survey

This is an inspection into the condition of the property that is carried out by a qualified surveyor. There are a number of types of survey which vary in cost and how comprehensive the investigation is.

Title Deeds

These are held at the Land Registry to show that you legally own the property.

Term

The number of years over which you agree to pay back your mortgage.

Under Payment

When you pay less than the agreed minimum monthly repayment amount.

Valuation

An assessment to see how much a property is worth. This is normally used by a lender to check if a property is suitable for them to loan you the money to buy it.

Valuer

A person who conducts the inspection with a view to making a valuation.

Vendor
